I would like to give my personal recommendation to the folks at LECO Supply for the service and product lines they offer to my dry-cleaning, commercial laundry, linen service, and self-service laundries. Those supply lines have freed up time I previously spent stocking the shelves to manage my employees and build the customer base. John Chase, the sales representative in this area, has been particularly helpful in bringing in products we use which other vendors do not stock. He has also organized on site visits by product manufacturers sales representatives to educate my staff of use of cleaning and garment processing supplies. That hands on learning makes us more profitable as it costs less to produce more with better knowledge of the tools available.

I would extend the LECO company a thank you for the service!
